SEATTLE, WASH.

As there has been no general news from Seattle for some time, I'll make an attempt to send some.

The newest and the latest is a new girl baby at the home of Mr. and Mrs. True Partridge, seven pounds the weight and Nov. 11th the date. The joy of the event has made True's homely countenance almost beautiful. May the young lady develop all the good traits of her father and looks of her mother.

Poor Cyril Vincent, old and sick, he has gone to the County Poor Farm for the winter. He was the son of an English Rector and educated at Oxford, but drink spoiled the best years of his life, and "Over the Hills" tells the story.

Claude Wood and wife have gone to Oakland, Cal., from there they will visit San Francisco and Los Angeles. They went by train, I understand. Claude intends to buy a new auto down there.

Oscar Sanders was in town Sunday, he will be back soon to stay, and will aid the boys in organizing a basketball team. Portland Frats have challenged the Seattle team to a game to be played December 25th, and a return game to be played in Seattle about January 1st. Our boys are a bit out of practice, but when they get a move on, those Portland "Huskies" will have to hustle if they expect to get any Seattle bacon.

On the evening of Oct. 19th, the Aid Society of St. Mark's Church gave a supper and show at the church. Lay Reader Hanson and Mr. and Mrs. Kirschbaum of the Aid Society did some hustling at ticket selling, with the result that about thirty attended. All reported a good time.

On the evening of November 28th, the P. S. A. D. held a Hal-lowe'en Party in the lower room of the new church. About sixty were present. Some original and startling costumes were worn. Mrs. Snider was a genuine Southern Mammy and played her part well. Mrs. Foster had a nondescript suit, well up in the prize class. Mrs. Kirschbaum, Mrs. Klawitter, Mrs. Martin and other ladies were artistic and stunning "misfits." Among the men, Joe Kirschbaum had a nondescript suit that a professional clown could not excel. Chas. Al. Gumaer was a full brother to a burly tramp, while Ed. Johnson as a ghost, sent cold shivers through the more timid. L. O. Christenson and Carl Garrison wore paper bats with balloons on top. After the unmasking, light lunch was served. This was the first social in the new church, but there will be many more.

November 25th, the Ladies' Aid of the Lutheran Church will hold a Bazaar in the lower room of the church. The ladies have a fine assortment of fancy and useful articles to sell.

On the evening of November 11th, Superintendent Lloyd of our State School came up to Seattle and gave an interesting talk to our local deaf. He gave us a good idea of the working of the school, also many helpful hints for the life work of the deaf. He was obliged to catch the late train back to Vancouver, so his stay here was short.

Some of the best shows in town are given by Klawitter and Wright at their Gem Theatre. If you don't believe it just go and see one or two of their Movie Thrillers.

A new $3,000,000 hotel is to be built in Seattle. The main entrance will be where the Root Printery now is. Being unable to outbid the hotel for the location, I shall probably have to move.

Report has it an attempt will be made in our State Legislature this winter to bar the deaf from driving autos. President O'Leary of our State Association has appointed a committee to fight any such attempt. A. W. Wright is Chairman of the Committee. The other members are Lawrence Belsor, Wenatchee; Ed. Miland, Yakima; Erve Chambers, of Spokane and W. S. Root of Seattle. Wright, Belsor and Miland are all skilled auto drivers, and I understand that Chambers also drives. Root does not run an auto, but he has a wide acquaintance with members of the Legislature which ought to help some. Chairman Wright recently wrote to the Director of State Efficiency Department, offer-

to go to Olympia and demonstrate. We give herewith Director McARDLE's reply:

STATE HIGHWAY PATROL L. D. McARDLE, DIRECTOR
STATE OF WASHINGTON, DEPARTMENT OF EFFICIENCY, OLYMPIA
OLYMPIA, WASH.,
OCT. 24, 1922.

MR. A. W. WRIGHT
527 East 70th St.,
Seattle, Wash.

DEAR SIR:—I have for acknowledgment yours of the 23d inst., and in reply thereto wish to assure you that we are mindful of the fact that the loss or impairment of one sense makes the others more keen.

I wish also to assure you that it was not the intention of the legislature to deprive any one, competent to drive, of the privilege of using our highways, much less my intention.

In the connection, I might add, it is my aim only to deprive persons from the use of the highways, who have no regard for the lives or property of other users, whether their defect results from the use of liquor, narcotics or other mental, physical or moral incapacitations. I would certainly be most glad to see you at the office any time when you find it convenient to come to Olympia.

Yours very truly,
L. D. McARDLE,
Director.

I think any such bill will have trouble getting through our Legislature as the deaf have strong backing. The President of the State Automobile association is a cousin of Lester Hobson, of Wenatchee. Hobson is already putting his cousin wise. The President of the Seattle Auto Club is a friend of Root's. The representative from Wenatchee is a friend of Lawrence Belsor. Mr. Thompson, president of the Thompson-Burbank Auto Supply Co., of Wenatchee, is highly indignant at the suggestion of a law being passed barring deaf from driving. His deaf daughter, he says, drives as well as any hearing person, and she is a great help in driving him to and from work. The clipping from the Seattle Post-Intelligencer, which appeared in a recent issue of the JOURNAL, has been printed in leaflet form and circulated.

How is it that Portland's two brainy correspondents disappeared at the same time? We know where Mrs. D. went, but where did Mueller go?

Some of the local deaf are munching some very choice Wenatchee apples, which they received via Lawrence Belsor.

Perhaps the readers will enjoy a good joke, even if it is on myself. I took a seat in a street car beside a lady. Several blocks farther on she rose to get off. After she had reached the door, I noticed several letters on the floor. Grabbing them, I rushed to the door, but she refused to accept them. I then offered them to a gentleman in front, but he also declined. I then took time to examine them and found they were only cast-off political advertising.

One of my friends gives me the following bouquet, "You certainly write good long letters for the JOURNAL. I think they alone are worth the subscription price—only they don't come often enough." Thanks, I have written for the JOURNAL so many years it has become a habit, although time does not permit of my writing as often as inclination would dictate.

Mr. and Mrs. Snider, of Tumwater, were in town for the Hal-lowe'en party, and remained for a week or so afterwards.

Miss Bertha Seipp, of Yakima, was in town for a few days recently, but left for Portland on the 12th.

DEAF AND DUMB TO HEAR, SAYS DOCTOR

BELLINGHAM, Nov. 11.—The deaf and dumb may soon hear beautiful music.

Behind closed doors to-night, Dr. D. M. Burglund, of Seattle, is testing an electric therapeutic appliance based on radio. The few persons selected by Dr. Burglund to attend the demonstration are faculty members and scientists.

Dr. Burglund declared that when a human being is "turned in" the subject will be able to hear music through the vibratory nerves, because of the harmonic relationship between music and the nerve system.

Of the above, the average deaf will say, "only another." But who knows? Just think of the wonders that are being done by electricity. I have always thought that if a cure for deafness was ever discovered it would be along the lines of electricity. The time may yet come.

"Barber Brown" was ill several weeks and confined to his home, but is again at his shop. He reports in a good business in his new location.

Arthur Martin has secured a position in the Casket Factory. Here's hoping he has found permanent work.

Miss Mabel Saigel, of Tacoma, is taking subscriptions for the various magazines and papers. I suggest that we all send her our orders for our yearly supply of reading matter.

Mrs. Gromachy, of Portland, after an extended visit with relatives and friends in Seattle has returned to her home in the Rose City.

The Frats are planning a big time for Saturday evening, December 30th. The President has appointed the following committee, Andy Genner, Chairman, John Bodley, Hugo Holcomb, Fred Kuhn and Bryan Wilson. Andy says he will have a crowd of two hundred here. Here's hoping he succeeds. The affair will be held in Carpenter's Hall, and light lunch will be served. The committee has a lot more up their sleeves.

Andrew Genner recently took a trip to Vancouver, and Victoria, B. C., but of course returned to Seattle.

Hayen't heard from the Rileys of Victoria since they were here last summer. Presume they are saving coin for that California trip next year.

The father of Mrs. W. S. Root died the first of October, age 78 years.

Mrs. Eva Seeley, of Tacoma, and Mrs. Chas. Hammond, of Los Angeles, California, were at the Hal-lowe'en Party. Mrs. Hammond has been visiting her mother in Tacoma. Seattleites were all glad to see them.

A new public road has just been put in near one of Chas. Al. Gumaer's ranches. This means a big increase in value of the land, so Chas. Al. wears a satisfied smile. He is a heavy taxpayer.

Bert Haire, Fred Kuhn and Bryan Wilson, are among those who have steady jobs. They had the good sense to stick to their places, with the result that they now work every day at good wages. The deaf men, who jump from one job to another, seldom do well. Practically all of Seattle deaf, who own their own homes, began poor, but by sticking to the job and saving their money, now own their own homes.

Roy Harris secured a steady job at Wenatchee and is now there at work. I believe Mrs. Harris has also gone there. Roy worked on a new Church in Seattle all summer.

Rev. Gaertner is delivering some good sermons, straight from the shoulder. One of our intelligent deaf who attended services for the first time speaks highly, and says he will go often hereafter.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Wright entertained company at their home Saturday evening, November 18th. Those present were the Haires, Bodley, Waugh, Roots, Mr. Partridge, Mrs. Ziegler and Mrs. Klawitter. These with Mr. and Mrs. Wright made thirteen, but nothing terrible happened. Cards and jokes were the order. Sandwiches, cake, coffee and "lemonade" were served by the hostess.

A. K. Waugh has a fine flock of about thirty turkeys. If they escape prowlers, they will bring some money to the owner.

Death often crosses our path swiftly. A few days ago, as Mrs. Glaude Ziegler was walking along the street, a lady in front of her suddenly fell to the sidewalk. Mrs. Ziegler and others helped carry her in a store and a doctor summoned, who pronounced her dead. The lady had about $500.00 on her person. She was a stranger to Mrs. Ziegler.

Carl Garrison broke away from work on November 15th and ran down to Camano to see his family.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Waugh have returned from Portland, and will probably remain in Seattle.

True Partridge went over to his camp the other day, and found Hal-lowe'en pranks had taken his out-house and rolled it into the street. Some one shoved it back on True's place, so the pranks then took it and dumped it on his back porch. Great is camp life.

The little seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Garrison fell on a rusty nail while playing in the school yard, the nail being driven in his face about an inch, just below his eye. He was rushed to a doctor in Everett by auto, where it was deemed necessary to inject a serum to guard against Lock-Jaw. We are glad to say at this writing that the prompt medical attention averted any serious consequences, and Edward is now as well as ever.

Edward Martin, John Hood, and Willie Bartholomew have returned from picking apples at Wenatchee. The apple crop was not up to the usual fine standard this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Martin, Ed. Johnson and others, who worked in the Yakima Valley Orchards, are back in Seattle.

Mrs. C. K. McConnell is home from a two-month trip to Chicago, Duluth, Fairbault, St. Paul, Vancouver, Victoria and several other places. Her Seattle friends were all glad to see her back. Mrs. McConnell is one of the pleasant bodies who make and hold friends by the score.

Mrs. N. C. Garrison was in town for the Hal-lowe'en party. During her stay she was the guest of Mrs. A. W. Wright.

Claude Zeigler is making some extensive improvements on his home.

Clarence A. Murday, formerly of Minnesota, but of the Illinois School, has been visiting relations in this section. He is a good talker, and being a bachelor he is supposed to have his eyes open.

Mrs. John Hagadorn has been spending some time with her mother in Tacoma, but is now home again, and Johnny again wears that happy smile.

Lawrence Belsor is doing finely in business at Wenatchee. He recently closed a contract with a druggist-Stationary Company to do their Kodak Finishing, they have about $200.00 worth of work a month. Besides this he has contracts with several others, besides the work that comes direct to his shop. We all know Larry does good work, and that is what counts.

The Dortero children have been having the diphtheria, and papa Dortero has had to board away from home for awhile. At present he is staying at the McConnell home.

Chas. Al. Gumaer has handed me a copy of the Junior Frat, a paper gotten out by the Detroit Deaf last summer. It is full of good stuff; the men who edited it were certainly live wires.

The eastern deaf certainly have the laugh on Seattle and some western deaf in the way they bought up Lander & Shean Stock. Not all Seattle deaf fell. Such men as Wright, Partridge, Belsor, Root, Sanders and Garrison, had no faith in the scheme. Some of the talk today about that enterprise reminds me of the old story of locking the stable door after the horse has been stolen.

Nothing would serve the interests of our country better than a well-thought out and well administered system of industrial education. We have here and there vocational and continuation schools, many of them doing excellent work; but school boards are inclined to treat them as hangers-on to the educational system rather than as essential parts of it. We have not, as they have in Germany, schools that fit the workmen of ability to pass into a real technical school, where he can fit himself for high positions in the industrial service. We are as yet only flying round the edges of the great field of industrial education.—The Youth's Companion.

Crippled Children at The Hippodrome

During the month of December, the New York Hippodrome will be host to 10,000 orphaned and crippled children at the matinees of "Better Times." The parties for these children have been arranged through co-operation with Bird S. Coler, head of the Department of Public Welfare of the City of New York, and the children will come from institutions under the direction of his department.

AKRON, O.

Otto Allen recently purchased a Ford touring car of 1922 Model and is taking lessons in running it under Ike Phillips, same residence.

Mrs. Wm. Reinhold spent a week recently in Cincinnati, where she was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Ellerhart, former residents of Akron.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert White, announce the birth of a bouncing baby girl, November 8th, weight seven and one-half pounds. Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Emerling, consequently, became the grandparents of the little girl.

As the Firestone plants closed down for inventory recently, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dann made the trip to West Sunbury, Pa., his old home, to visit relatives. It surely did Mr. Dann good to get away from the smell of rubber for a while. He was reared in that State.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hunter, Firestone Park, were among the visitors in Canton recently, at the benefit affair given under the Canton Society of the Deaf.

Mrs. Marguerite Feine, of Youngstown, is making an extended visit in Akron as the guest of Mrs. John Leopard.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Hertz, of Youngstown, spent the week-end with their son, Harry Hertz, who is employed in the Goodyear printing department.

A lecture by Alexander L. Pach, who was mentioned in last week's Review as a visitor, was given to the deaf people Sunday night at Goodyear Hall. This talk aimed to be especially helpful to those who were present. During his stay here he was the guest of his old friend, W. F. Dorian.

Gilbert Stroud, of St. Mary's, recently secured work at unloading coal for the Goodyear and help swell the deaf population in East Akron.

Thomas Hunt, of Buffalo, N. Y., stopped in Akron recently, and stayed three days with Edward M. Hinchey. Mr. Hunt recently signed to play with Hewitts semi-professional baseball team in that city for the next season.

Bert Baker, of Pittsburg, Pa., landed his job at Goodyear recently. He is a product of Ohio.

On November 14th, a baby boy was born at City Hospital, weighing 8½ pounds, to Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Eusworth. The boy has been named after his dad.

H. J. Blickensderfer, of Apple Creek, attended the masquerade at the A. I. U. hall Saturday evening. During his stay in East Akron he was the guest of Art Shawl. It is strange that this was the first time he made the trip to Akron in 64 years.

A card received by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rasmussen brought in the news that a baby-boy, John, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Houze (nee Louise Stadelmyer), near Syracuse, N. Y., on November 25th. Weight 7½-8 pounds. Mr. Houze once worked at Goodyear.

We learn that Clifford C. Dille, Goodyear worker and a well known silent athlete, and Miss Virginia Burton, were married in East Akron on Wednesday, November 29th. The best wishes of the silent colony here go with the young people.

Charles Murphy, a member of the flying squadron at Goodyear is planning to go to Nebraska December 16, to join his wife, who is sojourning in Iowa and Nebraska since October. They will return to Akron about January 1st.

Robert E. Davis, a former star football player of 1893 and 1894 at the Mt. Airy, Pa., School and now working for the Canton Water Works at Canton, was a visitor among the deaf one day recently. He was taken all over Goodyear Hall and greatly enjoyed his visit.

All silens are welcome to the Frat social to hold in the old A. I. U. hall on Saturday, December 18th.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Wickline entertained Mr. and Mrs. George Homrighausen with a delightful Thanksgiving dinner at their home. The entire party went to the picture show that evening.

Many friends were asking what had become of Will McLean. Now they are sorry to learn that he had been sick for many months, but is around again. Perhaps he forgot to tell his friends when he was rust-eating near Akron according to his doctor's advice.

The Goodyear Silents won another victory on Thanksgiving Day, by beating the Toronto Tigers in a football game before a large crowd, at Toronto, 7 to 2. A touchdown accounted for the score. The game was played on a clean field.

Charles Ewing, who is employed in the pit room of the Goodyear, is improving from bruises and burns sustained in the pit room recently. He had been washing the double lid of a 400 lb. mold, the lower lid collapsing and hitting his wrist and this resulted in his being burned.

James McGrattan and Frank McMillan of Cleveland, and Louis Posusta, of Elmyra, came down Sunday to see the Goodyear Silents Mecca Billards game, but were much disappointed by the recent cancellation of the game between the teams to have been played here Sunday, December 3d. In the meanwhile the gentlemen spent the day visiting friends.

Mrs. Gilbert Shroud of St. Mary's, recently joined her husband, who is working at Goodyear. They have taken a house on Newton Street.

Akron Division, No. 55, N. F. S. D., held its regular meeting and election Saturday evening, December 2d, and after the smoke of a spirited voting cleared away it was found that the following new officers were elected:

President, H. K. Ayers, by acclamation; Vice-President, Harold Newman; Secretary, L. M. Robinson; Treasurer, Frank Andrewjeski; Director, Harry Ware; Sergeant, David Williams; trustees, M. J. Grimm, three years, and C. M. Thompson, one year.

Oakley Lee spent Thanksgiving week at his home in Shreve. He did a little rabbit hunting in his leisure hours and bagged six.

AKRONITE.

Fraternal Society of Deaf Elects Officers

Columbus Division of the Deaf National Fraternal Society of the Deaf has elected these officers for 1923: President, E. I. Hoyer; vice-president, Milton Richards; secretary, Clarence Jones; treasurer, A. J. Beckert; director, Basil Grigsby; sergeant-at-arms, J. W. Bogart; trustee, Henry Fryfogel. The division will hold a social December 30th, in I. O. O. F. Hall, and public installation of officers next month.—Columbus, O., Journal, Dec. 6, 1922.

Deaf-Mutes' Journal

NEW YORK, DECEMBER 14, 1922.

EDWIN A. HODGSON, Editor.

THE DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL (published by the New York Institution for the Instruction of the Deaf and Dumb, at 1594 Stages and St. Washington Avenue, is issued every Thursday; it is the best paper for deaf-mutes published; it contains the latest news and correspondence; the best writers contribute to it.

TERMS.

One Copy, one year, $2.00
To Canada and Foreign Countries, 2.50

CONTRIBUTIONS.

All contributions must be accompanied with the name and address of the writer, not necessarily for publications, but as a guarantee of good faith. Correspondents are alone responsible for views and opinions expressed in their communications. Contributions, subscriptions and business letters to be sent to the

DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL,
Station M, New York City.

"He's true to God who's true to man;
Wherever wrong is done
To the humblest and the weakest
'Neath the all-beholding sun,
That wrong is also done to us,
And they are slaves most base,
Whose love of right is for themselves,
And not for all the race."

Specimen copies sent to any address on receipt of five cents.

Notice concerning the whereabouts of individuals will be charged at the rate of ten cents a line.

In one of the summer issues of McClure's Magazine, Henry Ford has a chapter upon "human salvage." It tells about those employees of the Ford Company who are not physically normal—that is, who are blind or nearly so, maimed or crippled, deaf and dumb, and even those suffering from certain forms of tuberculosis.

Particular care and study is given to the proper placing of each of the below-normal groups, the tuberculosis of course being employed in the open air. Even bed-ridden men were experimented upon, and in the light manual tasks assigned them were able to earn and receive their regular wages. None of them had to work unless he wanted to. Mr. Ford has demonstrated that men are very seldom down and out to the extent that they can't do something useful.

Commenting on the deaf employed, he says: "No particular consideration has to be given to deaf and dumb employees. They do their work one hundred per cent."

Such a statement, coming from such a source, is of very great value to the deaf.

It lifts them in a general way from the ban of incompetency and the uncertainty that their deafness might interfere with their capability.

It will go a long way to remove any existing discrimination in giving them employment. But there will always be doubters, who will deny them a fair trial.

A case of this kind came to our attention recently. A young man answered an advertisement. He offered his services in a skilled occupation and stated the amount of weekly wage he was willing to accept. A written reply invited him to call at once and suggested that a larger wage than he mentioned could be given him. He acted immediately; but when the prospective employer found that he was deaf, there was hesitation about giving him the job. The boss showed him a sample of the work to be done, and was told that he could do it readily and well. "But," wrote the boss, "how shall I give you directions, when you can't hear?" The deaf-mute replied, "You can write." Then the boss replied as follows: "I expect two men who can hear. They are to call today. If they don't come, I will send for you; but if you do not get a postal card from me in two days, you will understand the position you are after is filled."

There are probably hundreds of cases like the above, where employers balk at giving worthy deaf men a chance, for fear that their deafness will cause too much trouble.

A very little thought on the subject of giving directions to employees, would prove quite surprising to the ordinary employer. He would discover that for days at a time talk was entirely unnecessary. If a deaf man knows his trade, the plan of his work does the talking. It is not required that a plan or sketch be explained; it explains itself.

Henry Ford says the deaf employees need no special attention; they are 100 per cent capable.

The deaf in all parts of the country should make the most of this outspoken commendation. They should endeavor to have it published in the local newspapers throughout the land. Talk about it to fellow workmen. Show it to your bosses. Make it clear that all deaf workmen are not first-class workmen, but most of them try to be. That the deaf vary in ability just as the hearing do. That with a few exceptions deaf people are reliable, industrious, faithful and capable.

On all suitable occasions tell your hearing friends about the National Association of the Deaf, and about the National Fraternal Society of the Deaf.

Explain how the first mentioned holds conventions every three years, educates the public about the deaf, and lends its strength to all good projects that concern them. That, in the interim of conventions, an Executive Committee is alert and active in the interests of all the deaf. That the National Fraternal Society, with a membership of over four thousand deaf men, and a surplus of over four hundred thousand dollars, insures its numbers against accident, sickness, and death, and is one of the greatest forces in the United States in promoting among the deaf the virtues of patriotism, loyalty, and thrift.

The Deaf and the Automobile

EDITOR DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL:—In these days the deaf automobilist rightly views with alarm the thoroughly aroused people of the country against reckless drivers, as likely to hit them and jeopardize their chances to obtain a license in the future. Auto-killing now average two an hour in the United States, and no wonder the people are indignant and demanding in loud tones drastic laws to stop the slaughter. The deaf-mute's position as a driver is certainly a most perilous one, and only extreme care and freedom of serious accidents can save them. It therefore behooves them to be very, very careful, if their rights are to be asserted. One killing by them will surely destroy for all time chances of ever securing a license to drive a car, not only in the locality where the accident occurred, but throughout the country, for the news will be published from coast to coast and create a stir and strong prejudice against the deaf automobilist. Fortunately, indeed, at the present time the deaf driver has behaved himself magnificently, perhaps to the surprise and admiration of the police everywhere, and it is the earnest hope that this marvelous record will be maintained indefinitely. This is an appeal of a brother automobilist, in whose mind the deserved happiness of the deaf in driving a car has always been foremost. He has driven a car thousands of miles and through many States absolutely without an accident or injury to either. A timid driver is to be more dreaded than a so-called reckless driver, and in a crowded thoroughfare he is the cause of many serious traffic mishaps. This is well-known. We have ocular proof of some very wonderful deaf pilots in extremely congested traffic in large cities. This is due to their habitual keen observance and fine calculating of distance, which qualities are lacking in many hearing men and women. As long as they exercise the same care as they have been doing in the past, there need be no fear that the right to drive a car will be denied them. It is the ex-hearing deaf man (one who never attended a deaf school and lost his hearing late in life) that we should watch. He is not a deaf-mute, and if the law gets him, it should be made plain to the court that he is different, otherwise the deaf as a class will suffer. The matter should be fought out vigorously. Nip it in the bud.

Here is hoping that the deaf automobilist will continue to earn the goodwill and respect of the street traffic and highway cops, for upon them will the question of the life or death of the deaf driver largely hinge.

It is, perhaps, the highest triumph we can obtain over bigotry, when we are able to bear with bigots themselves.—Anon.

CHICAGO.

In the days of Hiawatha
All the rash and raving Redmen
Used to gather neeth the aspen—
Gather with the bugs and beetles,
Caterpillars and mosquitoes,
Hop-toads, and the charming chiggers,
Used to gather in the stockade
There to sweat and stifle
At the thing they called a "PICNIC."
Gone the rampant, roaming Redman,
Gone the stockade of Fort Dearborn,
But the pale-face who succeeds them
Follow yet the old traditions;
Gather handfuls of the faithful
In the same old weed-grown pasture,
Cluster round the soft-drink tepee—
Fancy it is fire-water!
Pity those poor saps, my daughter!

At last!

The first positive, practical step towards that "federated organizations picnic" was taken by the Pasadena, and the second by the Chicago Association of the Deaf, at its meeting of the 25th.

Ben Frank was given authority to try and enlist cooperation of other local organizations in staging one grand big annual picnic, instead of a dozen tin horn, small fry picnics, each sparsely attended. Should all plans for this fall through this year, Claude Russell has authority to stage a Cad picnic individually.

This federated-picnic idea is bound to prevail eventually; why not now?

The plan is simple. Each organization to sell its own tickets, red for the Sac, blue for the Pas, green for the Cad, and white for the Ephphetans. (Frats and Knights of De l'Epee to be left out this year, or else form a two-power entente of their own as insurance organizations.) Profits divided among clubs proportionate to number of tickets they sold.

With four or six clubs each pulling over 200 members to a combined affair, instead of the customary 100 to 150 as rules in individual affairs, and with only one rent-robber to pay, and with bills proportionally cut on printing, etc., the clubs have everything to gain and nothing to lose by trying Frank's pet proposition.

Ben Frank is—first, last, and all time—a hard-headed, practical businessman. With that mysterious, uncanny shrewdness of his race, Frank can take a hopeless jumble of facts and figures and make them as plain as A B C. Frank says his scheme is as sound in practice as it is in theory, and theoretically it says pay-dust of high quality.

Practically every picnic of our past summer was staged at Polonia Grove. Most of them made a little money—a very little—not through their own members but through the "Hunkies."

Polonia Grove is frequented by Poles, mostly. They come in droves to dance from eight to midnight. Dirty, suggestive, lascivious dancing; couples strolling around the little park, which is fringed by shabby and shady nooks. "Soft drink bar" adjoining the park: deaf and hearing lads alike showing the effects of the "soft" drinks purchased at 25 cents per shot, annoy the dancers and now and then start a fight. This Polonia Grove is the most popular picnic ground of Chicago Deafdom—"because it is cheap."

With a Federated-organizations picnic, Chicago can afford to pay the $200 rental of a decent park, and thus no longer enforce the "compulsory two-ticket rule" on all members to pay the rent of such places as Polonia.

Readers of the JOURNAL's Chicago column will be ch with interest reports on Ben Frank's success in this laudable undertaking. Without trying to sway popular sentiment, the JOURNAL believes in letting its public know the facts; who attempt to stay the march of progress, and why.

At the Cad meeting of the 25th, President Purdum and Secretary-Treasurer Mrs. Henry were re-elected. Claude Russell was made Vice-President. Printing of the by-laws authorized.

Annual ball was subverted to a box social. "Too many balls," said one lady. "Why should we stage another ball when we old hens have to pay fifty cents just to decorate the wall-paper and smile a silly, sticky smile, because we want to dance and no one asks us? This seemed to catch the popular fancy—too many bum balls and too many picayune picnics.

Mrs. Meagher was appointed to manage the box-social.

The best Bunco party on record was that of Thanksgiving evening, managed by Joe Miller at the Sac. This fellow Miller seems to have a peculiar knack at staging social affairs which return large profits.

There were thirty-five tables, or one hundred forty players—and had not the supply of tables and dice given out there would have been more. First place went to a tie between Mrs. A. L. Roberts and Miss Goldie Newman; drawing lots, Miss Newman won a huge turkey. Mrs. Roberts thereon had her pick of second prize from the big pile arrayed. Third went to old Lundy, a goose; fourth to Maughan, a chicken.

A raffle resulted thusly: Turkey, Teddie Bonkowski; Goose, R. Sulski; Chicken, W. Homan. An other raffle: Turkey, Mrs. L. Hagemeyer; Goose, R. Sulski (his second goose of the night); Chicken, Ted Bonkowski.

Not wanting to be pestered with her huge bird (what does a maiden lady want with a turkey?) Miss Newman had it auctioned off. Arthur Hinch's bid earned the fowl; the $5.25 therefrom was split, half to the Sac and half to Miss Newman. One of the bachelors thereon decided he didn't want no chicken, nobow,—at least not of the feathered variety—so his was auctioned off to Mrs. Meagher for 80 cents.

Time was when the pupils of the State School at Jacksonville had the devil's own time getting Christmas leave. "It's a long lane that has no turning." Today the pupils will simply have to go home as none of the faculty remain at the school to care for them. Eureka!

On the other hand, it has been a sacred tradition of Jacksonville that "teacher's pets"—usually scions of wealth and influence, are permitted to make innumerable visits to their hearthstone during the scholastic year. Col. Oscar C. Smith has been scrutinizing records, and announces that an average of two months out of each school year is thus lost in vacations and in going and coming. He says:

"It is a well-known fact that it takes much longer to educate a deaf child than it does to educate a hearing child. The loss of one week to a deaf child is equivalent to the loss of three weeks to a hearing child."

So he has ordered this come and go-as-you-please policy discontinued.

There's a man for you!!!

November 18th, the Illinois State School football eleven swamped Missouri, 66 to 6, in their second annual game, at Jacksonville. The star was Massinkoff, left half of Chicago—who enters Gallaudet College next year.

Charles Kemp was tendered a surprise birthday party at his home on the 27th—four days late—and given an order for a leather brief case. (That's something practical, as little Delavan division, when one year old, gave its secretary and treasurer each $7 brief cases to lug their effects, while Chicago Division No. 1—21 years old—still thinks an old newspaper and cheap string good enough to carry a pile of priceless papers. If one of those papers works out of the bundle on a rainy night, causing a loss to the N. E. S. D. of several hundred dollars, who will stand the responsibility?)

Among the guests at this party, engineered by Mrs. James Watson, were the Gibsons and Grandmaw Taylor. Mrs. Gibsons won the prize for making the model of an elephant using only a stick of chewing gum.

The Lutheran bazaar of the 25th managed by Mrs. Michaelson, is said to have cleared $100. The church was dedicated December 3d.

The Ephphetans celebrated De l'Epee day with an all-day assemblage, managed by young Stach. Among the principal speakers were Warner, late of Belgium, Dr. George T. Dougherty, and A. Novotny.

Mrs. H. L. Leiter had two tables at "500" at her flat on the 27th, serving dainty refreshments.

A most beautiful shower was tendered Mrs. Abe Migatz, at her sister's home November 25th. Her sister, Mrs. Roy Hunter, and Miss Esther Hertzberg, arranged a tempting supper for some two dozen girls.

Mrs. Percival Hall, deaf wife of the president of Gallaudet College, attended the regular bi-weekly "500" gathering of Aux Saes at the club, December 5th. She was enroute home to Washington, D. C., after a vacation in Denver and vicinity. That evening a small reception is understood to have been given in her honor at the home of the A. L. Roberts, whose guest she was.

Mrs. William J. O'Neil is visiting her married daughter in Milwaukee.

From the Los Angeles column in the JOURNAL we glean the surprising fact that good old "Gran'maw" Sullivan is visiting no less a personage than Mrs. F. Chaney—mother of that sterling star, Lon Chaney, of "Miracle Man" and "Oliver Twist" fame.

The Johnnie Pardums are back after a week in St. Louis, visiting the missus' folks.

November 22d the handsome and popular young leader of the oralists, Stephen Kudlewski, married that petite and pretty oralist who always wears her hair braided in bandeaux style, Miss Dorothy Dalton.

Miss Esther Hertzberg spent a week in Detroit.

George Petrimoultz, formerly of Chicago, and Miss Eva Vanasse, of Detroit, were married November 25, and spent their honeymoon here. They then returned to Detroit.

Grand President Harry Anderson of the N. E. S. D., spent the 25th and 26th in this city.

The Pure Food feed, which was so popular at All Angels', recently repeated at the Sac lately.

David Johnson, of Minneapolis, was a visitor in this city on the second.

Mrs. A. Minot was host to the O. W. L. S. at the flat of a friend, on the second. This is the secret society of the Gallaudet College girls.

Present were Mesdames Henry, Roberts, Hasenstab, Zollinger, Whiteon, Minor, Frank, and Meagher; and Misses Newman and Kilcoyne. The latter is a newcomer now teaching in the Ephpheta school here.

Dates ahead. December 16—Bunco, Pas. 24—Service at All Angels' at 3; their tree at 8. Pas Xmas tree and festival at 8, also. Two trees, eight miles apart. Alas, and alas, and alak-a-day. 31—Pas dinner at 1, members only; social gathering all day and far into 1923. THE MEAGHERS.

Thanksgiving Day proved to be an ideal November day in this locality. It was cloudy at times, but the sun shone at intervals and kept the temperature at a comfortable degree all day. Delightful weather it was!

The pleasant weather had undoubtedly much to do in bringing the people out of doors, no matter where they were drawn, and All Souls' Church for the Deaf drew a goodly number of deaf people and hearing friends to its special service in the morning—the occasion of the ordination of the Reverend Henry J. Pulver to the Priesthood. Being held at a time when all the clergy were supposed to be busily engaged in their own churches, none of the hearing clergy who were invited to be present were able to do so, but sent their regrets. Some of the deaf clergy were likewise prevented from attending the service.

The Rt. Rev. Thomas J. Garland, D. D., D. C. L., Suffragan Bishop, had charge of the service, and he was assisted by the following deaf clergy: The Reverends Franklin C. Smielan, of the Central Pennsylvania, Western Pennsylvania and Erie Dioceses; Herbert C. Merrill, of the Central and Western New York Diocese; and Oliver J. Whildin, of the Maryland Diocese. The Bishop had at his side Dr. A. L. E. Cronter, Superintendent of the Mt. Airy School for the Deaf, wearing the vestments of a choir member, who interpreted all the parts of the service spoken by him. Lay-Readers Smaltz and Lipsett and a choir of five deaf ladies were also in the procession.

The solemn service opened with the sermon by the Rev. F. C. Smielan, whose subject was "Higher Service," choosing for his text I Corinthians 9:22.

"I am made all things to all men, that I might by all means save some."

In his charge to the candidate, he spoke as follows:—

"My dear Brother-in-Christ: You are now about to receive from God, through the instrumentality of your Beloved Bishop, the office of a Priest in the Church. No one welcomes you more gladly than I do into the work of the Church among the Deaf. Bear in mind that your commission is from God and not from man. It is God who is choosing you and commissioning you. He bids you draw others up to Him. Are you prepared to accept this law of higher service and to start afresh in the strength of Christ on the upward path? Life for all of us is passing and whatever we do for Christ must be done soon. What service are you prepared to render the Kingdom of God through the Church? 'Even so hath the Lord ordained that which we preach the Gospel should live of the Gospel.' If you can say 'I was called upon for service, and responded with the best that was in me,' then all will be well."

Hymn by choir followed; then reading of Epistle for day by Rev. Mr. Pulver, and Gospel by Rev. Mr. Merrill; Litany said, led by Rev. Mr. Whildin, and then came the Ordination service by the Bishop, the Rev. Mr. Merrill presenting the candidate. The service closed after the administration of Holy Communion to the clergy and congregation, and signing of a hymn.

There were a number of outsiders at the service besides the clergy mentioned above, but we could not obtain the names of all, owing to the large crowd. Some, however, were these—Mrs. H. C. Merrill and daughter, of Syracuse, N. Y. Mr. and Mrs. Charles McManis, of New York City; Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Horton and daughter, of Bradford County, Pa.; Mr. George E. Chatham, of Altoona; Mr. and Mrs. Bowdle, of Wilmington, Del.; Mrs. Nancy Moore's son, Mrs. Ira E. Worcester, of Stamford, Ct., who is visiting her parents at Trenton, N. J., and several others.

On Thanksgiving Day evening All Souls' Parish House was filled with deaf people and a few hearing friends, to see an entertainment, which had been advertised. It consisted of a number of vaudeville acts, humorous and otherwise, and it was well enjoyed. Mrs. Nancy Moore, who came here from Toronto, Canada, last October, and who will soon return there again, directed the entertainment with her usual grace, energy and thoughtfulness, and she deserved the success attained, and thanks are due to all who helped her. We shall be sorry to see her going away and wish her all happiness, comfort and success, and hope that she will find it convenient to make frequent visits to Philadelphia in future.

The annual election of officers of Philadelphia Division, No. 30, N. E. S. D., was held on Friday evening, December 1st, and resulted as follows: President, James Foster; Vice-President, Hugh J. Cusack; Secretary, James F. Brady; Treasurer, William L. Davis; Director, James L. Jennings; Trustee, William L. Klein; Sergeant-at-Arms, Jacob Biedsky.

Two new members were initiated on this evening, and William H. Lipsett was initiated as a Social Member.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Campbell are visiting in Washington, D. C., and other places. They are enjoying themselves.

Mr. Barton Sensenig lectured before the Beth Israel Association for the Deaf on Sunday afternoon, November 26th.

Rev. Henry J. Pulver is expected to be at All Souls' Church on December 17th. There will be a celebration of Holy Communion at that service.

Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Horton and daughter, who had been visiting here since December 29th, returned to their Ulsterstown home in Bradford County, on Monday, December 4th.

Mrs. Boeckel-Ritchie, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., sister of Mrs. Joseph S. Rodgers, gave us a pleasant surprise in the form of a $6.00 contribution to All Souls' Coal Fund. Many thanks!

Mrs. Ross V. Mohr, of Cleveland, Ohio, is visiting here for a few weeks. She came to attend the wedding of her brother.

DETROIT.

News items for this column, and new subscriptions to the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL, will be received by R. V. Jones, 2147 Lycaeste Avenue, Detroit, Mich.

No doubt on Thanksgiving you all had your fun. In carving the turkey and breaking the bun, And perhaps in the evening, feeling quite hearty, You wound up the day with a Thanksgiving party.

The Thanksgiving services for the deaf, conducted by R. V. Jones and Elmer Drake, at the St. John's Chapel, was fairly attended considering the short notice given, but we expect it to be a big meeting next year.

The D. A. D. will hold its annual elections on the 8th, and we will give the results in our next letter.

There will be a special meeting for the Stags on the 10th, in the lodge room of the G. A. R. Building at 2 P. M., for the purpose of putting the Silent Stags through the ritual work of initiation.

The temporary officers for the purpose were selected from among the deaf themselves, who are now studying their respective parts for the occasion, so the silents can have the full benefit of the ritual in the sign language, after which they will be affiliated with the main drove, which consists of over 300 hearing Stags.

The Detroit Division, No. 2, N. E. S. D., will hold public installation of officers, and an Open House Reception, on the evening of December 30th. Ladies are invited, and everybody is welcome. Admission will be free, including refreshments. Come out and have a good time, and get acquainted with the Frats.

Mr. and Mrs. Huhn spent Thanksgiving day in Ann Arbor, visiting the parents of Mr. Huhn.

Detroit Division, No. 2, N. E. S. D., held its annual elections last Saturday evening, which was a hot contest from start to finish, and lasted till 1 A. M. Sunday morning, with the following results:

President, Asa Sittelman; Vice-President, Thomas J. Kenney; Secretary, John A. Braithwaite; Treasurer, John D. Ulrich; Director, George Davies; Board of Trustees, Benjamin Beaver, Chairman, Walter Carl, and S. A. Goth; Sergeants-at-arms, John Walter and Ralph Huhn.

The officers are well picked, and with the $1,000 treasury account that Retiring President Heyman built up, No. 2 bids fair to sail in smooth waters for the next twelve months.

Mr. Heyman, who rounded up over $450 clear profit for the Frats at the recent Ball, was given a hearty vote of thanks, and the Division also voted an appropriation of $15.00 to purchase a suitable gift for the retiring president to keep as a visible token of their appreciation for his valuable services.

Mr. W. J. Delebas will spend his Christmas holidays with his parents, in Kankakee, Illinois.

Mr. Percy J. Eisenhart's brother, who has been boarding with him for the past few months, left last week for Pennsylvania, where he quietly married, and brought his bride back to Detroit, where he expects to make his home. He is employed at the Ford Motor Co., Highland Park Plant.

About thirty-five enthusiastic deaf friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Heyman, on Tuesday evening, November 28th. The occasion was the birthday of Mrs. Heyman, and the gathering was a complete surprise to the happy lady.

A royal rollicking time was had by everybody present, with fun and laughter galore, that lasted way into the short hours of the morning. Mrs. Heyman was showered with many beautiful and useful presents along with some of Uncle Sam's and King George's currency, after which a jolly good luncheon was served. All voted it the end of a "perfect day." Among those from out of town were, Wm. K. Liddy, of Windsor, Mrs. Wells, of Royal Oak, and Mrs. Daniel Whitehead, of New Haven.

Mr. Allen Brook recently sent a deaf friend, Samuel Malakowsky, residing in Red Russia, a relief check for $10 to help him tide over some of the hardships he is going through, and has received a letter of gratitude and thanks, which also stated that $10 American money was worth about $50,000 in Russian coin of the realm.

Quite a few of Detroit's party fans gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Sadofsky, Wednesday, November 22d, to give a surprise party to Mrs. Sadofsky's sister, Mrs. E. Ball, who was the unsuspecting guest of the Sadofskys during the afternoon and evening. The surprise was perfect, and Mrs. Ball was the recipient of many useful and beautiful presents in token of the friendship and esteem of the invaders. A splendid time was passed till the milk wagons began to rumble over the pavements, when all departed for home and dreamland.

Royal Oak Silent citizens have beaten Detroit to it. They have founded the first local branch of the Michigan Association of the Deaf, with the following officers in charge:—

Gilbert J. Isaacson, President; Edward Luchow, Vice President; John G. T. Berry, Secretary; William Denham, Treasurer.

Mr. Ivor Friday was appointed general solicitor and enrollment clerk; any one wishing to join the R. O. Branch, and boost the M. A. D., can write to him for information. His address is Route 6, Box 97A, Royal Oak, Michigan.

Mr. H. B. Waters and Mr. Osmonson are appointed as a committee on arrangements for their first social, which will be held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Berry, Sunday evening, December 31st. Refreshments will be served, and a good attendance is hoped for.

Watch Detroit next month; we are not dead, only sleeping. We were simply waiting for the New Year to roll our way, so we could start at the beginning. We will then organize the Detroit Branch of the M. A. D., and will try to put it at the head of the procession and keep it there.

Send in your items as early as possible during the holidays, as the editor is short of help during those days, so many of the office force depart for home on their Christmas vacation.

Band of Deaf Boys to go to Atlanta

EDITOR JOURNAL:—Apropos to the editorial reference in the November 30th, issue of the JOURNAL to the band at the Tennessee School for the Deaf it may be of general interest to add that plans are under way to have the Band, some eighteen pieces, at Atlanta next August, during the week, of the convention of the National Association of the Deaf.

I was at Knoxville recently and heard the band play on several occasions. Under the mastery leadership and instruction of Mr. Frederic G. Fancher the young musicians are doing wonderfully well. Before leaving Knoxville I determined, if possible, to have the band at Atlanta during convention week and its presence there, now seems to be practically assured.

Mr. Thomas S. Marr, the distinguished architect of Nashville, visited the School since I was there, and was so greatly impressed by what the band can do, that he pledged $100.00 towards the expenses of the band should it go to Atlanta.

The presence of the band at the N. A. D. convention will be a great attraction. The sessions will be opened with a band concert; the band will head the auto parade, the band will furnish the music for the pageant and the ball, and it is proposed to devote one evening to a social event with a varied program with the band as the dominant attraction. Plans also are under way to make it possible for the general public to have the benefit of the band's presence at Atlanta as well as the members of the N. A. D.

The social and business features in preparation for the Atlanta convention will be along original and progressive lines, something different and something better than heretofore. Results of the work of the proper committees will begin to appear in the press after the holidays, but the time to resolve to attend the convention at Atlanta, the week of August 13th, and the time to begin getting ready for that great event is now.

NEW YORK.

News items for this column should be sent direct to the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL, Station M, New York.

A few words of information in a letter or postal card is sufficient. We will do the rest.

GALLAUDET BANQUET

The one hundred and thirty-fifth anniversary of the birth of Thomas Hopkins Gallaudet was celebrated with a dinner and oratory on Saturday evening, December 9th.

It was arranged under the auspices of the Greater New York Branch of the National Association of the Deaf, and took place at the Park Avenue Hotel at 334 Street and Fourth Avenue, New York City.

This hotel is one of the very few old-fashioned hostilities remaining in New York at the present day. It is handsome in architecture, solid in construction and spacious in its appointments. A section of the immense dining room was arranged for the occasion. One long table was reserved for officials of the Branch guests of honor and the speakers. Round table, seating six to eight persons, accommodated the remaining portion of those who attended. Altogether, there were between sixty and seventy gentlemen and ladies assembled to do honor to the memory of the Founder of the First School for the Education of the Deaf in America.

The tables were decorated with wreaths of smilax and ferns and cut flowers.

Among the guests of honor were the Misses Virginia and Elizabeth Gallaudet, Major Herbert Smith (a war chaplain who saw service overseas) and Mrs. Smith, who was Miss Edith Gallaudet. These three Gallaudets are granddaughters of Thomas Hopkins Gallaudet. Two great-granddaughters also were present in the persons of Mrs. Harry E. Gillen (nee Margaret Gallaudet Sherman) and Miss Eleanor E. Sherman.

Mr. Marcus L. Kenner presided during the evening and Mr. William A. Renner was toastmaster.

The menu, which was excellent in cuisine and service, was as follows:

...MENU...

Grape Fruit
Consomme Printanier
Relishes
Fried Fillet of Sole
Sauce Tartare
Sirloin of Beef in Glace
Green Peas
Au Gratin Potatoes
Combination Salad
Ice Cream
Assorted Cakes
Demi Tasse

Mr. Renner proved an excellent toastmaster, introducing the speakers with the skill of a veteran.

President Kenner of the New York Branch was the first speaker. He was followed by Miss V. B. Gallaudet, who also interpreted the remarks of Major Smith.

Prof. Isaac B. Gardner was an avirably absent, and Dr. Fox spoke in his stead.

Other speakers were Rev. John H. Kent, Messrs. Edwin A. Hodgson, Alex. L. Pach, Albert V. Kallin (who recited, in poetical signs, "Young Lochinvar"), Samuel Frankenhelm, Rev. Herbert Merrill, Harry E. Gillen, and Prof. Wm. G. Jones.

After the speeches a committee of three was appointed to speed up the fund for a replica of the Gallaudet Statue to be placed in Hartford. This fund is in the custody of a committee of which Dr. Thomas F. Fox is Chairman. The committee appointed are: Mr. Harry E. Gillen, John E. O'Brien and Miss Anna M. Klaus.

K. L. D.

The dance and games, at St. Francis Xavier's Hall, on November 29th, by the girls basket-ball teams of the K. L. D., was a big success in every way. A few days before the event was to take place, and before any public announcement could be made, it was found that the hall was not suitable for a game. So other game were arranged for.

During the evening when Father Egan dropped in, he suggested that the game be held in the basement, but it was found that the goals could not be put up. It will come off later.

Other games were substituted and the girls, who had donned their fighting rigs in the way of bloomers, showed that they had plenty of pep. There was a turkey put up at ten cents a chance. Miss Elizabeth Cameron, captain of the basket ball team, bought the bird in Long Island City. It was a fifteen pounder. She lugged it all the way to the hall. When the winner was picked it was found she had won it. So she had to lug the bird all the way back home.

There was plenty of dancing to music furnished by a first class orchestra and games galore.

The girls are much pleased with their first venture at entertaining and with the ready help given by the male members of the K. L. D. and hope soon to show they can play good basket ball.

The deferred game may be played on the Carroll Court Club.

On Friday evening, December 2d, the K. L. D. did itself proud. Its euehre and dance was held that evening in the beautiful Sonia Hall, Bedford Avenue, Brooklyn. About half those who attended were hearing relatives and friends of the members of the K. L. D.

The prizes were very beautiful and the winners were delighted. After cards dancing held sway until closing.

Much credit is due to Mr. William F. Daly, Chairman, assisted by Messrs. Gillen, O'Donnell, Cunningham, McCormick, Murray, Sullivan and McMahon. About 500 were in attendance, and considering the fact that the day before was Thanksgiving they did remarkably well.

The K. L. D. held its annual election of officers on January 9th. There were a few changes. The office of Grand Knight will be filled by John P. Haff; Deputy Grand Knight, Joseph Schmidt; Secretary, William F. Daly; Treasurer, Joseph Call; Lecturer, Mrs. John M. O'Donnell; Guide, Miss Lillian Quinn; Sentry, Lester Higgins; Trustees, Frank Lamb, Andrew Garbarini, Eugene Lynch, Chaplain, Rev. John A. Egan, S. J. In January the new officers will be inaugurated at a dinner to be held at some place in Manhattan. The Council meets every second Saturday evening of the month in the Johnston Building, Nevins Street, Brooklyn.

BARN-DANCE—JANUARY 13TH

Your attention is called to the Advertisement of the Barn Dance of the Alphabet A. C. on the fourth page of this issue of the JOURNAL. At the bottom it read December 13th before, and is now corrected to read January 13th. We wish to make known that last year at our Barn Dance in Brooklyn an unanimous request for another was made, so hence this Barn Dance.

This one will be very much better. Prizes for both men and women for best costumes, and prizes for games. Here's hoping to meet you there.

The birthday luncheon tendered by Miss Marita Frances Reddington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter F. Reddington, of Brooklyn, N. Y., to her girl friends on Sunday, December 3d last, came to a close the first week of the last month of the waning year with blazing glory. The occasion being her 13th birthday. She was the personification of grace and sweetness in her new blue frock and was the cynosure of all eyes. Her parents assisted her in receiving and entertaining the guests. The rooms were elegantly decorated with yellow crepe and looked quite dainty. The table decoration and the favors, in shape of baskets of flowers in centre in dainty pastel shades, the gifts being concealed in miniature baskets. Several musical selections were furnished with aid of her new victrola, a present from her parents, and the children greatly enjoyed, especially the games. There was not a trace of sadness, everything full of good, cheery smiles and gladness—a striking comparison to the gloomy and raw weather outside. She was the recipient of several useful gifts, and perhaps the best gift was a gold fountain pen and pencil in a velvet box from her classmates at school.

Those present were Misses Muriel Brown, Gertrude Paine, Vivian Rush, Veronica and Edna Daley, Veronica and Genevieve Schultzer, Margaret Mendt, Rose Cooney, Catherine Clough, Josephine Brady, Rata O'Connell, Claire Steinruck, and Charlotte Rehman.

XAVIER ALLIED NOTES

"King Robert of Sicily," that erratic and at times irascible Potentate whom Longfellow saw fit to weave around lines that will endure for all time, or as long as there is a volume of William Wadsworth's verse extant, came back to life at Xavier College Theatre, during the hours from 8.15 to 11 P.M., December 8th.

The presentation was on a grand scale, under the auspices of the Xavier Ephpheta Society's moderator and pastor, Rev. John A. Egan, S. J. Outside his fame as a preacher and a teacher, Father Egan has a penchant for things theatrical, and his first effort with a cast made up of Xavier Ephpheta Society members, as deserving of a place in the front rank.

Of the 800 and more Ephpheta and friends up front, who witnessed the production, the verdict was expressed in such terms as "grand," "magnificent," "beautiful," "the best ever," etc. Led by president of the Xavier Ephpheta Society, Jerry Fives, in the role of King Robert, every member of his court, including the Angel and his band of seraphs, captured the house with their fine acting.

The costumes were beautiful, the stage settings, scenery, lighting effects equal to a first night operatic production at the Metropolitan.

The only hitch was a curtailing of a line or two in the concluding act. Otherwise, take it from a "Big Time" Thespian, who dropped in after his turn at a prominent Broadway house, the production was "ripping" success, and deserving of repetition.

The Ephphetaans who took part and characters in which they appeared follows:

CAST OF CHARACTERS

On the opening of the week's festivities in honor of St. Francis Xavier's Diamond Jubilee, it was a treat to meet Rev. Father Dalton, S. J., who came on from Leonardstown to attend the Military Mass on Monday. Seated near him within the chancel, was Rev. Arthur Quinn, an old Xavier boy, now assistant at St. Aloysius Church, and who will be remembered by quite a number of Fanwood pupils who attended St. Rose Sunday School.

Mrs. Mary Metzner and Dave Costuma took a train to Garden City, Long Island, November 23d, to look at some vacant lots, but have not yet decided to select any particular lot. The Real Estate agent took them in his auto to Oyster Bay, and they visited Ex-President Roosevelt's grave. It is a lovely place. They noticed two wreaths from General Pershing and Clemenceau, the Tiger of France. They spent half an hour there, and then journeyed to Mineola and visited the airship sheds at Hazelhurst field. They then drove back to the agent's office at Garden City. The agent gave them commutation tickets for the trip. Though the weather was cold, they enjoyed the day very much.

Bronx Division, No. 92, wishes to give notice that in a recent issue of the JOURNAL, it was stated that an affair would be held on December 16th. However, there will not be any, and we wish our Brother Frats and friends to spread this and avoid the mistake of making the trip.

In recording the elections of the Brooklyn Frats, No. 23, the addition of Mr. Joseph Sheehan to the Board of Trustees was an error. The Trustees are: Hyacinth Dramis, Chairman; Jacob Landau, Solomon Battenheim.

Mr. Will Quinlan has a painting and two etchings at the Academy exhibit given by the Salmagundi Club, of which he has long been a member.

The Father of Joseph Zwicker passed away on November 27th. He was 68 years old. Death was caused from heart trouble.

The MacLair family will move to new apartments in the Yorkville section on the 29th of this month.

Can any one Enlighten Miss Bartha?

Miss Rose Bartha, of 9604 Mt. Auburn Ave., Cleveland, O., is most anxious to locate her schoolmates of the Buda-Pest, Hungary, School for the Deaf:

SZILAGYI ELENOR
PAL MAUGARET
BUDAI TSTUAN.

The quartet came to New York about the same time, and Miss Bartha thinks they are still in New York. Miss Bartha is a very bright young woman, and has learned to read and write English as if she had been educated in an American School. She has a splendid position in Cleveland, and constantly yearns to hear from her old associates. When he was in Cleveland, Miss Bartha appealed to Mr. A. L. Pach to help her out, and he is doing it through the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL, and hopes there will be a response that will gratify Miss Bartha.

Bureau of Investigation.

Regarding many enquiries about the safety of exchange of the old stock of a certain food products company for the new stock of the merger of which the above company is now a part, we beg to say that the stock of the new company is just as good as the stock of the old company. As the exchange does not require additional cash, it is probably the best to make the exchange. The recommendation of the exchange of these stocks, however, has nothing to do with the merit of this security.

OHIO.

[News items for this column may be sent to our Ohio News Bureau, care of Mr. A. B. Greener, 933 Franklin Ave., Columbus, O.]

December 9, '22—Nineteen members answered the roll call at the Advance Society meeting December 5th, and after the disposal of the preliminary business Treasurer Ohlemacher submitted his annual report, which was approved. We have not the figures at hand now, but the society has a good balance left over for the coming year's use.

Mr. A. J. Beckert presented a list of articles needed in rooms at the Home under the care of the Society, and authority was given the Matron to purchase them.

The purchasing committee of the society was also given authority to make an expenditure for Christmas gifts to the residents of the Home. As there are 36 or 37 people now under care, it takes quite a little pile of money to supply all with a gift, but it is given ungrudgingly.

As the women's department of the Home will be in need of a new heating plant in a year, so Mr. Beckert suggested that now was the time to begin raising a fund for that purpose, and he made a motion that the society start the ball rolling by a contribution, which was done. Mr. Wm. Friend because of age, asked to be changed from an active to an associate member, which was granted.

The election of officers for 1923, resulted in these being chosen, all by acclamation.

President, Herbert Vulp; Vice-President, Walter Kutz; Secretary, Jacob B. Showalter; Treasurer, A. W. Ohlemacher; Custodian, Elasco Bureham.

Before the war it was the custom of the Society to regale itself with a dinner at some hotel annually topped off with addresses. But the great conflict with its numerous appeals for financial help to the government caused the custom to be tabooed. Now that the country is settling down to normalcy, it was thought best to go back to the custom, and probably it would awaken more interest in members to attend the monthly meetings more regularly.

Mr. Winemiller gave a short talk on what Dr. — was able to accomplish in his treatment of diseases.

Frank M. Talanco, a visitor, also spoke on the business he was engaged in.

The newly elected president announced the standing committees: Purchasing for the Home, J. B. Showalter; Program, Ernest Zell; St. Valentine Entertainment, Walter Wark, George Clum and Frank Hartard.

Frank M. Talanco, educated at the St. Joseph's Institution for the Improved Instruction of the Deaf, West Chester, N. Y., showed up in Columbus Tuesday morning. He claims to be a travelling agent for magazines and newspapers. He had been soliciting in Pittsburgh and came here from Zanesville, O., whether he made any sales here we have not learned. Folks here are not inclined to deal with strangers.

While in Toledo last Saturday we learned through one of the city papers that the Akron Silents were booked to play the Mecca Billiard foot-ball team Sunday. The latter was held up as having beaten all its opponents during the season up-to-date, and of course expected to down the "Silents" also. We did not see the game played.

The following is part of a newspaper description:

Mate evidence, so to speak, that collective action has individual effort backed off the boards on a foot-ball gridiron was produced eloquently at Armory Park Sunday afternoon when the Akron Silents, deaf-mutes, trounced the Mecca Billiards, Toledo champion, 20 to 0.

Barring nothing, the team play, smooth action and concentrated attack shown by the mutes Sunday was better than anything seen in Toledo for ages.

So perfect in execution was the Akron team's play that the splendid defense put up by the Meccas looked poor in comparison.

So far, the S'lents remain unbeaten. The Dayton Ladies' Aid Society social given Thanksgiving Day, afternoon and evening, proved a good success. Over $70 were taken in and after paying expenses at least $60 will go to reduce the debt in, furnishing a room at the Home. The same may be said of the Springfield Ladies' Aid. Society social on November 25th. It cleared $60 for its room at the Home.

Mrs. Finley Davis, of St. Paris, Ohio, is the latest to be admitted to the Home. She came last week. The residents feasted on two turkeys weighing 32 pounds on Thanksgiving Day. They were also remembered with a box of oranges presented by the Columbus Ladies' Aid Society.

Gallaudet College.

John Quincy Seipp, '24, of Yakima, Washington Star, halfback on the varsity for the last four years, has been elected captain for 1923. Seipp was the unanimous choice of the players, as he possesses all the qualities of leadership. Seipp is a triple threat man and can hold his own with the best of them.

The basket-ball team is under way and will play its first game at the big Catholic University gymnasium, December 15th. The Prep Class affords a wealth of material which, although green to such a fast game as is played around here, should develop into splendid tossers. Prof. Hughes is coaching the team.

At a meeting of the Buff and Blue board on December 7th, Prof. Harley D. Drake, '04, was chosen Alumni Editor to succeed Dr. Hotchkiss. Rev. H. J. Pulver, who was associate-editor with Dr. Hotchkiss, resigned.

The annual foot-ball dance was held, Friday night, December 8th, in the men's refectory, from 8 to 11 P.M.

There were six no-breaks and every body enjoyed the evening. The college boasts many good dancers, who can shake a wicked foot on the ball room floor.

During the intermission the Athletic Association served refreshments of brick ice cream and cakes.

Prof. Victor O. Skyberg has returned from his extensive trip covering a little over a month. He received a warm welcome from the students.

The Saturday Night Dramatic Club gave its initial play of the year entitled.

The play was given under the direction of Jas. N. Orman, '23, and the success in a large measure is due to his untiring efforts along with Ladislav Cherry, '23, who was stage director.

The chapel was well filled with students and outsiders, who seemed to enjoy the evening. The actors were showered with compliments, and it is the opinion of many that the play is without a peer. This of course will be contested by the Jollity Club bunch, who gave a play two weeks ago; but we should worry.

Thomas Hopkins Gallaudet day was observed here Sunday, December 10, with a concert in the evening by the Sophomore class. The concert dealt chiefly with Dr. Gallaudet's life and work.

Following the concert the students followed the old custom of filing out double file to the statue on which the head seniors placed a wreath.

In one of his reports recently, Secretary of the Interior Fall roundly complimented the school and its work, recommending an increase in our allotment, that the necessary improvements might be made.

The recitation rooms, as it can readily be seen, are very inconvenient, since they were built long years ago, when the enrollment was much smaller than now.

The Professors in most cases are working overtime, which is hardly fair. Here's hoping.

The first snowfall of the year hit Kendall Green Saturday night, December 9th, but was all gone by the next afternoon, much to the joy of the P.C.'s, who are due for their whenever a snow comes in quantities enough for a snow-bath, famous in history here.

ST. LOUIS.

Mrs. I. L. Strauses, of Montgomery, Ala., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Samuel Perlmutter.

W. K. Esterling, of Mississippi, has been a patient at the City Hospital for the last few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Purdum, of Chicago, spent Thanksgiving week with Mrs. Purdum's parents.

Mrs. Susan Jones is confined to her bed by a broken leg. She resides at a Home for Old Ladies and is quite advanced in years.

Mr. Allman, of Indianapolis, came here in search of work, but when last seen had not found any.

Miss Hattie Deem made a flying trip to her old home town, Jackson, Miss., recently.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stumpe was baptized recently, at St. Thomas' Mission, by the Rev. Dr. Cloud.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Harden were recently re-initiated into the grand folk class by the arrival of a son to their daughter—Mrs. Adeline Owen. St. Louis Division, N. F. S. D., has electd the following officers for the year 1923: President, William Stafford; Vice-President, Hugh Stack; Secretary, Charles H. Fry; Treasurer, Walter Toma; Director, Henry Stumpe; Trustees, J. H. Burgherr and W. H. Schaub.

The Division gives its annual "Stag" party on December 16th, and its annual ball on February 10th.

The semi-annual Supper and Bazaar given by the Woman's Guild of St. Thomas Mission on the Saturday evening before Thanksgiving, set a new record for attendance and the number of article donated for the bazaar. The supper, a chicken dinner, was most excellent. Practically everything was sold out, which resulted in a substantial benefit for the Mission treasury. The affair was under the general charge of Mrs. Harry Berwin, President of the Guild, ably assisted by Mesdames Cloud, Chenery, Schulte, Deem, Bajon, Udall, Wess, Boston, Jones, Merrell, Burgherr, Arnot, Froning, Power, and Messrs. Froning, Arnot, Burgherr, Chenery and Brockmann. The ladies deserve great credit for the success of their recent effort. The next Supper will be given on the evening of May 27th.

FANWOOD.

Mr. George St. Clair, a 1918 graduate of the Fanwood, N. Y., School, has been appointed instructor of carpentry and cabinet-making. He arrived the first part of this month from Trenton, N. J., where he had been pursuing a course in mechanical drawing at the New Jersey School for the Deaf and at once took up his duties. He comes well recommended and we are glad to secure his services, not only as our carpenter, but also as a member of our undertakings along athletic lines.—The Deaf Mississippian.

Mr. Harry Cooke, for many years instructor of painting and sign writing at this school, resigned about twelve years ago, made us a visit on Friday, December 8th, accompanied by Mr. M. J. Greenwald, a representative of the Modern Electric Co., of Cleveland, O. Mr. Cooke is a dealer in tobaccos, and is also vice-president of The Glassware Decorating Company, with executive offices in Cleveland. He has a fine home in that city, a couple of automobiles and an atmosphere of prosperity.

Mr. and Mrs. George Sanders spent a week, over Thanksgiving Day, in and near New York. Mr. Sanders visited the Fanwood School, and later, with Mrs. Sanders were guests of Dr. and Mrs. Nies.

The Principal left early Monday morning, December 11th, for Albany, to attend a Conference of Principals of Schools for the Deaf of the State with the Department of Education, relative to the interpretation of the new law passed by the Legislature last winter and affecting the education of the deaf.

The Baud provided an entertainment for the members of the 86th Street Branch of the Y. M. C. A. on Monday evening.

Indians are very fond of dogs, and around every wigwam, tepee, hut, or wherever they may reside, there are always from six to twenty wolfish dogs. An Indian dog loves an Indian and hates a white man with equal intensity. When a white man drives through an Indian village and sees a dog by the wayside, his natural impulse is to whistle in a friendly way. But the instant he whistles the dog turns tail and is out of sight quicker than if he had been kicked. An Indian never whistles to his dog when he want the animal to come to him; he places his tongue against his teeth and hisses.

PITTSBURGH.

Rev. Dr. Boyd, father of the Misses Irma and Euna Boyd, passed to his lasting reward November 14th. Dr. Boyd had been blind for a number of years, but still continued to function as a minister of the gospel, where a supply was needed, especially at the 8th Street R. P. Church. The deaf of Pittsburgh in general extend their sympathy to the grief-stricken family.

It is reported that the state of Miss Euna Boyd's health was so critical that she was removed to an institution at Mayview, where it is hoped she will be benefited and be able to return to the bosom of her family shortly.

We regret to report that Mr. Joseph Acheson is still confined to his home in Homewood with little prospect of ultimate recovery of his former robust health and spirits. So serious is his condition his friends are unable to see him at all. His friends desires nothing better than that he would gain strength and health as of yore and be with them again. Under the circumstances they can only hope for the best.

Miss Margaret Wagner and Mrs. Wm. Shull are busybodies (no, not in the middle-sense) and have their hands full of responsibilities; nevertheless they find a little time to call on their friends, who are glad to see them. They get as far as Wilkinsburg sometimes.

Mr. Brewster R. Sawhill and his bride, who was Miss Vera Valentine, after their honeymoon trip to Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington, have returned and are now domiciled at 512 Greendale Street, Edgewood, where pater and mater W. L. Sawhill are frequent callers.

There was a good-sized crowd at the birthday celebration of the Abbe De l'Epee held at St. Patrick's Convent Hall, 16th St. and Liberty Avenue, November 28. Addresses were made by Mr. E. S. Havens, his subject being "Jean Massieu"; Mr. F. R. Gray, "De l'Epee's kindness to the deaf"; Mr. Vincent Dunn, "the value of the Sign Language in Sickness and Death"; Mr. F. A. Leitner, "Story of the Death of De l'Epee and Sourd's promise to take up his work."

Mr. Dunn declaimed "Resignation," a poem written by a young lady who lost her hearing after she was seventeen years of age.

An entertainment will be held at the same place, December 17th, and Miss Susan Campbell is disposing of the tickets for same at twenty-five cents.

Mr. Robert Cook, of New Brighton, and Miss Mary King, of Duquesne Heights, were married November 19th, by Father Coakly, privately at the parish house. The couple will reside in New Brighton, where the groom is employed.

November 12th, there was a mass meeting at Philomena Hall, Vincent Dunn presiding and a new society organized, which is to be known as the De Paul Xavier Society of the Deaf. Over forty have already enrolled, so it seems to be a success if it depends on numbers. Miss Susan Campbell was elected President of the newly formed society, and meetings will be held every month in St. Patrick's Hall.

At a meeting of Council No. 9 of the K and L of De l'Epee, Mr. Charles Ott was elected Grand Knight, with much enthusiasm.

A grand Euehre and Bazaar will be arranged for by the Knights and Ladies of De l'Epee at St. Patrick's Hall, 17th Street and Liberty Ave., February 9th and 10th, 1923. Admission, 25 cents, and proceeds to go the fund for the K. and L. of De l'Epee convention to be held in Pittsburgh next summer, August 5th to 11th. Those in charge of the convention will leave no stone unturned to make it a great success, both as to numbers and entertainment. As the date is just ahead of the N. A. D. convention at Atlanta, and those in charge desire to charter a special car to carry the crowd. Any N. A. D. or N. F. S. D. members, who are interested in this special car arrangement from Pittsburgh to Atlanta, are requested to inform Mr. Vincent Dunn, 4 Steuben Street, Crafton, Pa., so that the route could be determined as well as the number desiring reservations.

INVESTMENT BONDS

The Victory 4 1/2%, due May 20th, 1923, bearing distinguishing letters "A" to "F" inclusively prefixed to the number on the face of the Note, have been called for payment on December 15th, 1922, at 100 and accrued interest. We will purchase these Notes at full market price and advise their immediate exchange for other Government issues or high grade long time bonds.

After December 15th, 1922, the above called Notes will cease paying interest.

NOTICE.

The only way to insure against the purchase of worthless securities is to buy through banks and bond houses of standing. The investment experience of good houses is an invaluable aid in the selection of the right type of bonds to suit individual requirements.

WANTED—AN AUDIENCE
OF 100 REPRESENTATIVE
DEAF WITH $100 or MORE
TO INVEST or LOAN at 6%

An opportune time now presents itself. There are many farms for sale just now on account of the "drought" and low prices for farm products. There's little reason for a "drought," if a farm has enough humus and is farmed right. Most farms are farmed wrong or farmed to death. The average farmer has not the time nor land to spare to follow. My plan is to buy a few of these farms, follow half and work half by rotation and vice versa, lend tenants money to trade on a cash basis (the credit system has been the ruin of many), put houses and fences in condition, then trade or resell. This requires from one to three years. Rents will pay interest and improvements. I own an 8-mule deep tilling machine. Have tried the plan and have sworn statements as to its success.

This is not a get-rich-quick scheme. Lender's principal and 6 per cent will be fully secured and guaranteed. If sufficient deaf are interested, I shall organize a Company and have same incorporated (in Arkansas), so as to preserve and protect the lender's rights and interests.

For further particulars kindly write me, stating amount you might invest. No obligation on your part, however. Address
